CAPTAIN ERICSSON'S REMAINS.

The Grand Duke Constantine Banished From Russia—The Panama Strike.

(SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE RECORD-UNION.)

ON THE ISTHMUS.

Amicable Settlement of the Strike on the Panama Railroad.

PANAMA, September 14th.—Monday, the 1st inst., witnessed the beginning of a general strike among the Panama Railroad employees of all classes. The occasion was an attempt to reduce the wages of the employees by one-sixth, while professedly the change was to benefit them.

Colon was the headquarters of the strike, but the employees at Panama and along the line were in perfect accord with their brethren in Colon. The company that morning engaged a gang of fifty men from the line to go to Colon to discharge and load the Pacific Mail steamship Colon, but on the arrival of the train they were met by a crowd of strikers and sympathizers, numbering fifty 500, who attacked the cars and declared their intention of not allowing the work to proceed.

By the efforts of the Prefect active hostilities were discontinued, but the strikers so harassed the company that the effort to continue the work had to be abandoned.

An appeal was made to the Government for military aid in the case of the strike. A detachment of fifty soldiers and officers was dispatched to Colon from this side. There was, however, no further difficulty, the railroad people not again risking the prosecution to extremes of a body of over 1,000 men.

On this side some men were induced to attempt to work, but were likewise driven off by the strikers.

The telegraph to Colon was cut and several attempts made to tear up the track. These, however, were discovered in time, and no serious result ensued. Things continued thus until Friday afternoon, when it was announced officially by the Prefect of the province that the company had complied with the demands of the strikers, agreeing to pay $1.50 per day to silver men and $1.25 to gold men, instead of the uniform $1 in gold proposed. Thus the most serious strike that has interrupted transit for many years has happily ended.

CENTRAL AMERICA.

President Ezeta Recognized by Guatemala and Mexico.

SAN SALVADOR, September 14th.—President Ezeta has accepted his election very modestly and with the highest esteem of the entire diplomatic corps, all of whom have cordially accepted his invitation to be present at the inaugural banquet, which takes place to-morrow.

Congress is still in session and will remain so for several days to come.

President Ezeta has sent a message to Congress in which he expresses the desire that it will pass judgment on Articles 3 and 4, and that it will ratify the treaty of peace with Guatemala.

While Guatemala is not overpleased at the result of the Salvador election, the Government has accepted the inevitable with seeming good grace.

BUSINESS IMPROVING.

NEW YORK, September 14th.—The Herald's Guatemala correspondent says that business in the capital is beginning to improve.

The Guatemalan Central Railroad, it is understood, has withdrawn its refusal to sell the road to the Government, and it is believed here that if affairs assume a more solid basis that the C. P. Huntington syndicate in New York will take up construction of a northern road from the capital to the Atlantic coast.

EZETA RECOGNIZED.

MEXICO, September 14th.—The Cabinet Council yesterday decided to recognize the Ezeta Government and Pow will be relieved Tuesday. Cohen, the United States Minister, recognizes Ezeta. Pow will proceed to Washington as Envoy.

RUSSIAN AFFAIRS.

The Grand Duke Constantine Banished—The Czarewicz to Go Abroad.

LONDON, September 14th.—Advices from St. Petersburg state that the Grand Duke Constantine, who has long been under a ban on account of his revolutionary tendencies, has been banished to Archangel, and there he will pass the remainder of his life.

When Constantine forced himself a few days ago into the Imperial presence and insisted on his Majesty listening to his latest revolutionary poem, it was too much. A guard was called in, and the Grand Duke ordered into temporary confinement.

The Czarewicz, too, has been ordered to leave the capital.

GENERAL NOTICES.

It is not a liquid or snuff, it is easily applied to the nostrils, and regulates the nostrils, and a sure cure. It cleanses the nasal passages, and heals the inflamed membrane giving relief at once. Price, 50 cts.

NEW YORK, September 14th.—George W. Campbell, of Chicago, agent of the military aide, James H. Campbell, was married to Miss Helen Derby, daughter of Sir Thomas Dodd, of West Derby, England, at a reception given by Rev. Dr. Dixon. Campbell was 35 years old, and had been in the army for three years, and was in the army of Mexico.

One night just after he had picked a silver dollar from the mud while riding at full speed, the wind blew a lace handkerchief from a beauty, young lady's hand into the arena. He picked it up while riding and returned it to the owner. A mutual friend introduced them. They fell in love and the engagement was sanctioned by Sir Thomas. As Campbell's business prevented his return to England, Miss Helen decided to come to him and she arrived here on the City of Rome.

STEAMSHIP RIO JANEIRO. VICTORIA (B. C.), September 14th.—The Pacific Mail steamship Rio Janeiro arrived at noon today, and after discharging a large mail and passenger list, sailed for San Francisco. She brought forty-seven sacks of Eastern and European mail and seventy-five Chinese passengers for this port.

RECIPROCITY.

Representative McKinley Expresses His Views on the Subject.

WASHINGTON, September 14th.—Mr. McKinley said to-day in the Philadelphia Press that his views on the subject of reciprocity were much the same as when he delivered his first tariff speech in this Congress. Then, in referring to a speech made by Mr. Charlton, a member of the Canadian Parliament, in which that gentleman showed how Canada had benefited under reciprocity with the United States, Mr. McKinley said:

"The same condition has been true as to every agreement of reciprocity we have ever had with any nation of the world. We have been beaten in every instance from 1850 to 1880. In twelve years of reciprocity with Canada we bought of them twice as much as they bought of us. Ninety-five per cent of the products came into the United States free of duty, while only 42 per cent of ours went into Canada. What these other countries want is a free and open market in the United States. What we want is that we ever have reciprocity, must be reciprocity, and reciprocity that shall be just; reciprocity that shall give us our share in the trade or the arrangement that we make with other nations."

"Whenever we have tried reciprocity or made it, we have always been the loser. But leave reciprocity to the illustrious man who presides over the State Department under this administration, and my distinguished friend, the Chairman of the Committee on Foreign Affairs—Mr. Hitt. This is a domestic bill. It is not a foreign bill."

Referring to this speech, Mr. McKinley said: "I have not changed my views on this subject. I do not think the tariff bill is the place to embody reciprocity, or that we shall have any actualizing or unifying laws on a matter that concerns our commerce. But I'm willing to try an experiment that promises to give us reciprocity with equality. That is what I want."

THE TARIFF BILL.

Petition from San Francisco to Postpone the Date of its Going into Effect.

WASHINGTON, September 14th.—Senator Hearst has received a telegram from Macdonald & Co., William Diamond & Co., J. Munby & Co., Lillenthal & Co., A. Vignier & Co., Paine, Dubois & Co., and other San Francisco importers, earnestly calling attention to the fact that "many contracts made on a basis of the old tariff, and the revenue would be very great, if the European goods, would subject importations to the operation of the new tariff before they could reach their destinations, should the tariff bill go into effect October 1st."

"The hardships of the speedy enforcement of the McKinley bill and its injurious effect upon the merchants and importers of San Francisco would be very great, if the revenue were respectfully request that you use your influence to have the enforcement of the McKinley bill deferred until January 1, 1891."

Senator Hearst has enlisted Messrs. Morrow and McKenna in the good service, and the three are devoting their entire energy to the consummation of the desired end.

Protests have also been received from New York, Chicago and Boston importers. The result is that Chairman McKinley, who was at first reluctant, has yielded to the great pressure brought to bear, and Assistant Secretary Nettleton announces that the time will probably be extended to February.

BEFORE CONGRESS.

Measures to be Acted Upon During the Present Week.

WASHINGTON, September 14th.—It is expected that the land grant forfeiture bill will be acted upon in the Senate to-morrow. Senator Sawyer will call up the anti-labor bill, which has already passed the House. So far as known, there will be no opposition to it. The Senate to-morrow will order of precedents established by the Republican caucus, there are no measures expected to cause lengthy debates, or meet serious opposition, until the bill to transfer the revenue management of the Navy Department is reached. The opponents of this measure are as determined as ever.

The opposition shown by the minority in the House to the consideration of the Langston-Venable case has had the effect to determine the Republican leaders of the House to act upon that and the Miller bill, when it comes to the House, will probably be disposed of very quickly, and it is likely that if a quorum is in attendance it will go to the conference before the end of this week.

THE WORLD'S FAIR.

The Dual Site Not Favored by the Agricultural States.

CHICAGO, September 14th.—Commissioner McDonald of California, in an interview to-day, gave evidence of dissatisfaction about the dual site for the World's Fair. He said he is not alone, by any means, in opposition to the sentiment of the Commissioners, for all the agricultural States are in accord with his views. In fact, it is almost universal with the full Board, although they have not yet taken any action upon the matter.

Commissioner McDonald does not believe the Commissioners will adopt a dual site unless presented to them in such a modified form as will give satisfaction to the agricultural States, the larger will be the exhibit and the greater the success of the fair.

Commissioner Meyer, speaking for Wyoming, said he is in favor of a dual site. The live stock interests of the country demands suitable grounds and ample space for themselves, and not isolated from the main exhibition, of all other industries.

BOND PURCHASES.

The Secretary Will Receive Proposals for the Sale of Sixteen Millions.

NEW YORK, September 14th.—Secretary Windom left this evening for Williams-town, Mass., to join his family. As a result of the conference with bank President and financiers Saturday, Secretary Windom said this afternoon that he had decided to receive proposals for the sale of 4 per cent. bonds to the amount of $16,000,000, the proposals to be received at the Treasury Department in Washington on Wednesday.

The Secretary will purchase the bonds if a reasonable price be asked for them, and the same time Secretary Windom will offer to prepay for three-fourths of the year the interest on currency 6's.

Secretary Windom said it was not usual for statements of the above kind to be made before they emanated officially from Washington, but owing to the anxiety of so many of the business community to know what was going to be done by the Treasury Department he thought it best to announce beforehand, although it was Sunday.

NOTICE ISSUED. WASHINGTON, September 14th.—In accordance with the statement made by Secretary Windom in New York to-day, the Treasury Department has issued a notice for proposals for the sale of $16,000,000 four per cent bonds to the Government, to be received on Wednesday.

APOSTLES OF ANARCHY.

A Revolt Among the Members of Their Aid Society.

CHICAGO, September 14th.—The Apostles of Anarchy are trembling just now at a revolt among the members of the Pioneer Aid and Support Society, which threatens to dethrone their two goddesses, Mrs. A. R. Parsons and Mrs. C. Spies, wife and mother, respectively, of two of the executed anarchists. Some time ago the Central Labor Union, which is a federation of the German trades unions in this city, protested through one of its delegates against the further payment of semi-monthly pensions to these women.

No action was taken, and the attack was renewed to-day, the Central Labor Union presenting evidence that both Mrs. Spies and Mrs. Parsons were comparatively well off, owning real estate and having other sources of wealth.

There were many red-hot speeches, but a vote resulted in favor of the continuance of the subsidy to the two women. The prevailing sentiment seemed to be that if the names of these women, which are drawing cards for subscriptions, were stricken from the rolls the association might as well disband, for it would no longer be able to collect assessments to pay other beneficiaries.

As a result of the controversy, the Central Labor Union will probably withdraw from the aid association.

WILLIAM S. MOSS. He Was Found Wandering in Battery Park, New York.

NEW YORK, September 14th.—William S. Moss, the missing son of a millionaire of Stockton, Cal., was captured Friday night wandering in Battery Park. It appears that Moss' people sent him abroad to travel, in the custody of Richard Kelly, also of Stockton, but the hope of the family was proper influence and surveillance might work a reform in his habits of hard drinking, and get him out of his peculiar ways, for he was supposed to be a lunatic, though a harmless one. Kelly brought him here on the City of Paris. Moss gave him $500, and his sister, Mrs. Tams, $100 in addition, when they started on their trip.

Kelly, according to the testimony of passengers on board the City of Paris, denounced Moss as an "imbecile," and refused to pay out any money for him. This course of treatment he kept up after they reached this city. Finally the ranchman resolved to cut loose from his guardian.

Moss' friends will have him returned to California.

FIRE AT VACAVILLE.

VACAVILLE, September 14th.—A fire started last night about midnight at a store occupied by Strong & Co. of Sacramento as a fruit-packing business, on the north side of Main street, and burned east and west, gutting Snyder's station, a hardware city store, Hill's restaurant, Room's saloon and Hacke's hardware store. Loss, $10,000; insurance about $3,000. It is supposed to have been incendiary origin.

PACKING HOUSE BURNED. COLFAX (Wash.), September 14th.—The Colfax packing house was destroyed by fire last night. Loss, $25,000; insurance, $14,000. The fire was caused by the explosion of a lamp. The company's plant was burned several times, and has only been rebuilt a short time.

THE SOUTHERN PACIFIC. A Conference to Wages of Employees.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 14th.—At the meeting of the Brotherhood of Railway Brakemen last night, the strike of the switchmen was denounced on the ground that the switchmen had not received sufficient provocation for striking.

The day crews were all at their posts yesterday morning and by hard work the business of the crowded yard was pretty well straightened out yesterday.

The night crews also went to work at 6 o'clock last evening.

S. E. Wilkinson of Galesburg, Illinois, Grand Master of the B. R. P. M., is in the city for the purpose of adjusting the grievances between the brakemen and the Southern Pacific Company. The brakemen demand an increase of wages, and it is expected that the matter will be settled to-morrow, when they will confer with A. N. Towne of the Southern Pacific. The union is in a prosperous condition, all the members are employed, and the applications for membership were received last night.

General Superintendent Fullmore, Assistant General Superintendent Pratt and the division superintendents of the Pacific system of the Southern Pacific road spent another day yesterday in consultation over the schedules of wages to be presented to the representatives of the employees. The schedules for the different divisions vary owing to the different conditions existing, but they are made more uniform than heretofore. They differ in many details from the schedules demanded by the employees, but in their general average they practically concede all that was asked. They give substantial increases in wages, and will increase the total wages paid the trainmen by at least $4,000 a month. On some divisions a little less than what was asked is given, and in others a little more is given in order to make all as near equal as possible, and equal to the wages paid on other Western lines. The schedules being prepared by the officials and unduly modified by the employees at the final conference.

FATAL RUNAWAY. PORTLAND, September 14th.—News has just reached here of an accident which occurred on the Portland and Seaside road, Friday last. David Hug and wife, an aged couple, were driving through some timber, when their team became frightened and ran away. One of the wheels struck a tree, which threw them both out. Mr. Hug struck his head against the tree, crushing the skull and killing him instantly. Mrs. Hug's left arm was broken and one of her feet badly crushed. They are old settlers of this country.

FRUIT SHIPMENTS. FRESNO, September 14th.—Sixty-four car loads of raisins, dried grapes and fruit left here this week for Eastern points. This shipment is about three times in excess of the shipments at this time last year. At the present outlook this ratio will continue during the entire fruit and raisin season.

ABSOLUTELY PURE

DAILY RECORD-UNION

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 15, 1890

THE PRESS ASSOCIATION.

The Northern and Central California Press Association meets in this city this evening in annual session. There is to be a meeting of the Association's Executive Committee this afternoon. It is understood that there will be a considerable attendance of visitors at the session from the southern part of the State.

Sacramento welcomes these newspaper men cordially. Last year there will be no formalities or exertions of that order. Not that the local journalists, though few in number, were unwilling to, or not desirous of engaging in such pleasant work, but that the Executive Committee has notified them that it would not be expected, and that any effort in the way of a banquet and a ride would be deemed out of place, since last year there was such generous entertainment. The session will be an important business one, with two sets of papers, however, on journalistic subjects.

The purpose of the organization is a highly commendable one. That it can be attained, is not to be doubted, if only the membership will make concessions, yield to one another, and stand firmly together. In such a union as the organization contemplates there is a franchise of inestimable value. But to secure it, the members must set aside their individuality to a great extent and require the foreign business of the Association to be transacted exclusively through one, and only one, responsible agency. If individual members deal with foreign advertisers without using the business avenue of the Association, they compete with themselves and destroy the whole scheme of the organization.

If it is found impossible to hold all the members up to this correct standard, one of two things must result—the cutting off of such members as will not comply or the abandonment of the organization. The newspaper men of the interior have it within their power, by honest and firm unity, to secure due reward for their labor, and to be free from the ruinous rule of the practice that pits one journal against another to undercut and starve. The newspaper men want only what is fair. They propose no corner upon their goods. They desire only to be protected from a graceless and unfair competition between themselves. They can secure these ends only by union and the maintenance of one business channel through which to communicate with the business world. No matter if by such use one journal secures less and another more business than heretofore—in due time the equalization and fair distribution of business will come about, and at least for what he does get the country publisher will receive far better prices.

All organizations of this order start with much friction. It takes time to put the machinery into smooth running order, and to harmonize all interests and to bring all to foresee the ultimate gain of discipline and orderly organization. If the newspaper men cannot agree upon fair rewards for labor and service, and settle upon a system by which they will make for themselves a franchise as the result of compact union, then it will be demonstrated that the very class of men who advise others how to conduct their business are least competent to carry on their own with a view to amassing a competency for the days when human vigor declines. It must be confessed that at the spring meeting of the Association there was such manifestation of a desire to receive all the benefits of unity, while maintaining perfect individual freedom to do as each one pleased at that time, and under all circumstances, that the hope of building a franchise retired far into the realm of doubt whether newspaper men are capable of self-government. Since then there has been, we learn, a very considerable change of sentiment for the better, and the belief is now entertained that, the purpose of the organization being better understood, will be fully attained. Let us hope so; it will be better for the State if it comes about, because it will give us a better conditioned, more independent and courageous press, and the State and society must profit thereby.

We hear of a good deal of indignation being expressed here and there over the attempted taking of Barrundia from the deck of an American vessel in Guatemalan waters. We have the story of passengers on American steamers passing resolutions of indignation and protest; even some newspapers have permitted a supposed sentiment of patriotism to lead them to exclaim against the Guatemalan authorities as offenders against the dignity of the United States. The truth is, that there is no better settled principle of international law than that under which the attempt to take Barrundia was made. An American ship entering the harbor of a foreign country and having on board one subject to the criminal process of that country, is not a haven of refuge for the criminal or accused person. Let those who are inclined to speak bitterly of the taking of Barrundia reflect one moment upon what would be thought of a British shipmaster in the harbor of San Francisco refusing to surrender to California authorities a person against whom a warrant of arrest had been issued, and who had fled to and taken refuge upon the ship? If the British skipper would be bound to hold and protect the man against the laws of the offender's country, every foreign ship in San Francisco bay would become the resort of the criminals of the State fleeing from arrest, and we could not take them, however heinous their crimes.

The campaign was practically opened by the Republicans by a mass meeting in San Francisco Saturday night, at which Colonel Markham and Mr. Reddick spoke. It was an auspicious opening, and appears to have been marked by enthusiasm quite unusual so early in a campaign. This one may take as indicative of the very deep interest by Republicans in the success of the Republican ticket, and to augur a triumph in November.

The use of calomel for derangements of the liver has ruined many a fine constitution. Those who for similar troubles have tried Ayer's Pills testify to their efficacy in thoroughly remedying the malady, without injury to the system.

HUMAN REASON.

ITS INSUFFICIENCY TO KEEP MAN IN THE WAY OF HOLINESS.

Rev. von Herrlich's Sermon Yesterday at St. Paul's—The World as Christ Found It.

Rev. John F. von Herrlich, Rector of St. Paul's Church, delivered an interesting sermon at the morning service yesterday.

The text was from Hebrews, first chapter, first verse: "God, who at sundry times and in divers manners spoke in time past unto the fathers by the prophets, hath in these last days spoken unto us by His Son."

Mr. von Herrlich stated that although man's reason might have been sufficient to keep him in the way of peace and holiness before the world became depraved and sinful, yet, even then, his knowledge was insufficient and imperfect. "But," said he, "we will endeavor first to show the insufficiency of a natural religion, and then the absolute necessity of a Divine revelation."

After defining natural and revealed religion as the two fountain-heads from whence flows all our knowledge of God and His will and attributes, Mr. von Herrlich spoke of man in his fallen state, cut off from a direct communication with God, and with nothing to build his faith and hope upon, but the feeble and unsteady light of his own reason. He then spoke of the mighty problems of life and destiny—death and immortality, drifting about without rudder or compass, with no way to steer or guide himself. In looking over the history of the past—at the two attempts at progress and civilization—one based upon human intellect, the other on the human reason enlightened and sanctified by revealed religion, we can more fully appreciate and see the force of our argument.

What was the climax of these intellectual efforts of them all in religious and spiritual directions? Their great philosophers believed in a Supreme Being and in some state of existence beyond this—but here their knowledge reached its utmost limit. The result of their efforts was great learning and remarkable genius, but it was a learning that could not satisfy the simplest queries of the longest soul, nor shed one ray of light upon the great problems of life and destiny. As to a remedy for sin—what means were necessary to gain God's favor; whether repentance would blot out the sins of the past; whence we came and whither going? These were some of the questions which unaided reason could give no answer. But just when the human intellect had reached its utmost limit in its search for truth, just when men were groping in despair, Christ came to teach them the will of God and point the way to life and immortality.

Mr. von Herrlich gave a graphic description of the world when Christ came. Moral and spiritual darkness was upon the face of the earth. Druidism was absolute in Britain, and while the infant Savior slept in His manger cradle at Bethlehem, the dark altars of Stonehenge quivered with their human victims; while in Greece and Rome the impurity and worship of the gods and goddesses was almost inconceivable. It was the human reason of the refined and cultured Greeks and Romans that peopled the skies with thousands of vindictive, unchaste and adulterous deities. And surely we cannot expect the morals of a people to rise higher than the character of the gods and goddesses they worshiped. It was the human reason that piled upon the Carthaginian altars the bodies of thousands of infants as sacrifices to their monster god Moloch. It was the reason of the learned scribe that made God only a shining link in a chain of fixed and miserable fate.

It was the cultured reason of the epicurean that made God merely a cold abstraction—cast away beyond the stars—wrapped in sublime and profound indifference, not caring how many storms might rage at his feet nor how many worlds beneath became desolate. Unaided reason never gave the world any clear knowledge of the will and character of God—no uniform laws of morality, no infallible guide to lead him. What was a vice on one side of a mountain range, the other side, at times, was counted a virtue.

With all the cultivation of intellect the great problems of existence were still unsolved. The agonized mother, as she stood over the cold and marbled form of her lifeless child, could get no tidings from Greek philosophy of that great beyond to which the soul of her loved one had departed. Even the dying Socrates, with a pathetic distrust of his own reason as to the mortality or immortality of the soul, says: "I am on the point of knowing, but I do not know what to say. I have a right to criticize those extravagances that are factors in the creation of high taxes. I have in my mind the county hospital. No sooner does the impetuous citizen become broken down and debilitated, than he rushes off to the hospital. Even persistent dyspepsia and constipation are getting to be excuses for admission. Hence, allow me space to enter my protest against further continuance of this pernicious practice. It costs too many hard dollars for the treatment of these unfortunate, and it is high time that they should know that they can save the county that expense, by the judicious use of a few bottles of Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla. A remedy that within my observation is a sovereign cure for those too common disorders. If they won't take it they ought to be compelled to by some law that would meet the case. Under the circumstances, a feeble physician is inexorable, hence this growl."

A delinquent subscriber presented a Georgia editor with a bill weighing twenty pounds and the editor publicly thanked the donor for "so characteristic a gift."

It is astonishing how rapidly the feeble and debilitated gain strength and vigor when taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. For what are called "broken-down constitutions," nothing else has proven so effective as this powerful but perfectly safe medicine.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

It has created that heaven on earth, the Christian home. Those rationalists who insist that man can live on the scanty product of the wilderness of nature, without recourse to the manna which falls from heaven, deceive themselves when they think their systems are the product alone of unaided reason. Revealed religion has become so interwoven with human thought that many fail to distinguish it as a divine revelation. But were it possible to blot this divine light, then alone in the darkness of a world shut out from the presence of God, with the solemn problems of existence confronting us, and with no hope for their solution, we would face the terrible agony of sin without hope or salvation. Then even those who now wisely strive to weaken our faith in God's word would not ask "is a revelation necessary?" for all would feel that necessity just as our bodies now feel the need of air to breathe and food to eat. The reverend speaker declared that the human reason was not complete—it was insufficient. That light, which like a mighty Eddystone, throws its bright beams over the troubled sea of human life, and across the dark valley of the shadow of death, is God's revelation. And the revelation of the human mind and speculation have thrown their dashing spray for ages against its adamantine shaft, yet they have never shaken its base nor darkened the light of its shining summit. It has survived the storms which have strewn the shores with wrecks about it. It stands like a column, erect amid the ruins, unshaken and unscathed, while the noisy waves of error and unbelief break at its base and die away in fleeing foam.

AMUSEMENTS.

Mrs. Ballou, of San Francisco, painted a nude female figure after Guppi's (Paris) suggestion. She had a model, and it goes without saying that it must have been a graceful one. The figure is in good drawing and fine color. The artist sent it to Superintendent Bush for exhibition at the State Fair. He is of the opinion that the Directors would deem it within the lines of propriety, since it is rather too suggestive to fall within those artistic barriers that make the nude unobjectionable, and rob it of any immorality. He therefore submitted the matter to the Board, and that body resolved to exclude the picture as not proper for exhibition in a gallery where the general public view it. In its decision the Board was justified, and it might have gone further in that direction, and had the approval of good taste.

It is now advised that the picture will be exhibited at 826 J street, in Hammer's concert rooms, this evening. That puts the picture upon a different plane. Whoever wishes to form judgment by inspection, if it is offensive and indecent, or whether, as the painter claims, it is the nude in art that the schools approve and the judgment of the world has justified, can go to see it, of course. But upon the walls of the Art Gallery at the fair it would have been introduced upon those who find it in offense, and yet have the right to visit the gallery and be free from such assault to the modesty of themselves or their children. Let the artists dispute as they please and the critics assail or defend, it remains that the Board of Agriculture was justified, and the Superintendent of the Gallery was wise in submitting the question prior to hanging the production. It is a picture that is not more nude than any in art galleries, notably of male figures, but it is, notwithstanding, not a picture for a general gallery, and is one that falls without the limits of the permissible in art.

"A GROWL."

Mr. Editor: Although my taxes are small, yet they are as burdensome to me as if I paid much more. And as a taxpayer, I feel that I have a right to criticize those extravagances that are factors in the creation of high taxes. I have in my mind the county hospital. No sooner does the impetuous citizen become broken down and debilitated, than he rushes off to the hospital. Even persistent dyspepsia and constipation are getting to be excuses for admission. Hence, allow me space to enter my protest against further continuance of this pernicious practice. It costs too many hard dollars for the treatment of these unfortunate, and it is high time that they should know that they can save the county that expense, by the judicious use of a few bottles of Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla. A remedy that within my observation is a sovereign cure for those too common disorders. If they won't take it they ought to be compelled to by some law that would meet the case. LIBERATI'S FAMOUS

New York Band

FIFTY SELECTED ARTISTS

Will begin their engagement at the

LIBERATI'S REPUTATION AS A MUSICAL CONDUCTOR HAS BEEN THOROUGHLY ESTABLISHED.

Liberalati's Band

NATIONAL REPUTATION.

Its Rendition of American, English, Irish and Scotch Airs is by Critics Pronounced Superb.

THE REASONS WHY LIBERATI, THE great cornetist, and his inimitable band are so popular and draw such large houses are thus given by a New York journal:

"Because each and every musician is an artist on his respective instrument."

"Because the Liberalati Band is the most complete traveling organization."

"Because it carries more musicians than any other military band."

"Because every vocal and instrumental soloist is without a peer on the concert stage."

"Because it has received more favorable press comments than any other military band."

"Because Liberalati is, without the possibility of a doubt, the greatest cornet virtuoso in the world."

SECOND WEEK OF THE FAIR.

A ROUND OF ATTRACTIONS THAT CAN NOT FAIL TO PLEASE.

Liberal's Famous Band to Discourse
Grand Music Through the Week—
Features at the Park.

The second week of the State Fair opens with flattering promise of success. The attractions at both Park and Pavilion are of a character to please and interest. At the latter place the chief interest, outside of the splendid display therein, will center in the round of grand concerts to be given by Signor A. Liberal's famous band of musicians. This band has been secured at heavy expense to the Directors, but it is confidently expected that it will—as it should—attract great crowds of people to the Pavilion nightly during the week. Two or more matinees will also be given for the benefit of those who cannot attend at night. The programmes for each night in the week are given below, also those of the first two matinees.

We have heretofore spoken generally of the Art Gallery exhibit in the fair as highly meritorious. A long and more careful examination of the 499 paintings confirms the opinion already expressed. It is a very superior display and can well expect attention of an entire evening.

The key-note of the exhibit in oil paintings are "The Great Murders" by A. P. Hill; the portrait by Miss Withrow; William Keith; H. Duesbury; still life by S. M. Brooks and M. Strauss; marines by W. A. Coulter, Norton Bush, F. L. Heath; and other pieces by Yelland, Bush, Amanda Austin, Tojetti, and Narjat.

In water colors, Mr. Jorgensen has for the third time a large and especially fine exhibit, his "Helmet Rock" being the best unquestionably. It has the qualities of motion, life and vigor, and is exquisitely finished. One of his pupils, Miss Fanny McClatchy of this city, makes a good display of ability and fine taste. Probably 177, "On the Road to Fort Ross," is the best of her very creditable efforts.

A new water colorist appears this year, Stanley Ischold. His collection is also large and strong in vitality, delicacy of color and excellence of drawing. His "San Francisco Bay," is the best. His many exhibits, which are all of superior character. In this department of water color pastels and crayons Hugo Fisher has some excellent work, notably "Autumn on the Pacific," 164. S. B. Gamble's "Young Maidenhood," 207, is a remarkably fine piece of water coloring and portraiture.

George Boedewig's "Ab Sin" is an admirable piece of work, is from life and one of the especially striking effects in the gallery. Oscar Kunath's "Madonna and Child," 248, is exquisitely finished. Amanda Austin, Sacramento, has a good portrait in crayon, 255. Susan Sroule, L. Roethe and C. S. Newell are leaders also in this department.

F. Happersberger leads in statuary and modeling. Mr. Happersberger has just been awarded the contract for the Lick monument of "California," to cost $100,000. The accepted design of the monument is shown and several models of the pannels and figures. Mr. Florin makes a creditable exhibit in statuary, also, better than that of last year.

Among notable features of the gallery are two large and three small oil paintings on copper, very old, and loaned from the Goldman (N. Y.) collection for the occasion. A striking figure, also, is "The Duke of Alta at Breakfast," by Russell, of the Royal Galleries of Stuttgart. This picture is loaned by B. D. Keeler, of San Francisco. A very bold and vigorous full length study of an Apache is by Paul Menagoena, in crayon.

These may be taken to indicate the character of the exhibit, outside of the museum department, and will give a general idea of how the display strikes an impartial observer. There is some poor work in the gallery, but less, by far, than usual—in the past, we close as we began, with the statement that it is a superior display, and only regret that a more extended review cannot be made of it.

TO-DAY'S FEATURES.
Vaquero Exhibition This Morning—Four Races This Afternoon.
It is expected that there will be some daring feats of horsemanship displayed by the vaqueros who have been engaged to give an exhibition of their skill at the Park this forenoon. The exhibition will commence at 9 o'clock. Some of the worst bronchos obtainable have been secured for the occasion, and there will doubtless be some ground and lofty tumbling witnessed.

The exhibition will include riding, lassoing cattle, etc., and for Eastern people, who have never seen anything of the kind, it will possess unusual interest.
In the afternoon there will be four running races, the first of which will be the Daisy D. stake, for all ages, three quarters of a mile, with Daisy D. Carmel, Picnic, and Percin as starters. Daisy D. is the favorite, at $40 against $18 for Carmel, $10 for Picnic, $8 for Acclaim and $8 for Percin.
The fourth race will be the Capital City stake, a handicap for three-year-olds, one mile and one sixteenth. The starters, their weights and standing in the books are as follows: Daisy D. (118), $25; Margold (110), $25; Rico (118), $25; Raindrop (115), $9; Take Notice (110), $7.
The third race will be the Sunny Slope stake, for all ages, five-eighths of a mile. Fairly has been omitted from the pools, the others selling as follows: Fearless $25, Mystery $9, False Queen and May H., a stable $6.
The fourth race will be a selling purse of $350, for all ages, one and one-eighth miles. Applause sold on Saturday night for $25, Kildare $9, with Albatross, Mohawk, Wild Oats and Nerva in the field at $6.
During the day the First Artillery Band will play in the grand stand, as usual.

State Fair Notes.
Mention was yesterday given the enterprising firm of Scott & Gilbert, and as already stated, while not making an exhibit at the Pavilion, the public are cordially invited to visit their establishment. To-day a special invitation is extended to the public celebration of the North Tonic. The peculiar combination of remedial agents used in the preparation of the North Tonic is the result of much experiment, the object being to produce a preparation of sterling merit, from which immediate benefits might be obtained, and at the same time avoid the use of drastic and harmful drugs so often used in remedies of this class. Possessing all the virtues of Peruvian bark, together with other vegetable remedies having a direct but gentle action upon the liver and kidneys, North Tonic is pre-eminently the remedy for malaria and all kindred diseases. Stimulating and toning up the stomach, liver and kidneys, it enables these organs to properly perform their functions, and allows them to discharge their secretions through their proper channels, which otherwise retained in the system produce a multitude of distressing and serious complaints.
In our issue of to-morrow a concise description will be given of the exhibit the Sacramento Glass and Crockery Company, which is attracting universal admiration. Mr. John Weil, the manager, is endeavoring to acquaint every caller with the merits of the beautiful stock, and the prices for which it can be purchased at their store.
The most cooling and delightful resort in the Exposition is where the Bell Conservatory have the entire area fitted up with cool walks, refreshing fountains, choice pot plants, examples of tropical growth, and a large and beautiful display of horticulturally attractive and the resort a great favorite with visitors.
Christianson, Dierssen & Co. exhibit samples of the celebrated Bartlett Springs water, and present inquirers with circulars giving an analysis of the water. It is a natural mineral water of remarkable curative and tonic properties, and is withal a most palatable and refreshing beverage. Charles Barton, assisted by a polite corps of assistants, is still dispensing the celebrated New York Ice cream soda to all who call at his magnificently fitted up stand.
A Meister, manufacturer of carriages, buggies, spring wagons, etc., makes a fine exhibit of the products of his factory, on the main floor of the Pavilion, west of the round. Many different styles of vehicles are shown. The finish and workmanship is of the very best, and speaks volumes for this well known and prosperous home enterprise.
The display of L. K. Hammer consists of a great variety of musical instruments, including stringed, reed and brass instruments, and a large collection of pianos. A special advantage the renowned Chickering piano. In a special case an exhibit is made of four California-made instruments—saxophone, guitar, violin and banjo, the latter being the handwork of Mr. Hammer, and is certainly a handsome piece of workmanship. The showing in cases of drums, brass and silver instruments, accordions and musicians' supplies is of a character to interest all classes, and adds much to the attractiveness of the gallery display.
Notice has been added to the list of those who prefer to make the display at home. Oscar S. Flint invites an inspection of his complex confectionary and soda water stand, No. 324, Street. It will only require a trial to convince all that the very best can be found at this establishment.
Special attention is invited to the display of L. L. Lewis & Co. In stores, it is the most complete and well-known exhibit. When it comes to rich parlor gear, brass work, and brass decorative work generally, it is a remarkably brilliant exhibit, and attracts the eye from all quarters of the floor. The Garland range is also prominently presented. The firm are large dealers also in tinware, fine porcelain and china goods, lamps, crystalware, and various household articles, and are certainly a handsome piece of workmanship. The showing in cases of drums, brass and silver instruments, accordions and musicians' supplies is of a character to interest all classes, and adds much to the attractiveness of the gallery display.
Notice has been added to the list of those who prefer to make the display at home. Oscar S. Flint invites an inspection of his complex confectionary and soda water stand, No. 324, Street. It will only require a trial to convince all that the very best can be found at this establishment.
Special attention is invited to the display of L. L. Lewis & Co. In stores, it is the most complete and well-known exhibit. When it comes to rich parlor gear, brass work, and brass decorative work generally, it is a remarkably brilliant exhibit, and attracts the eye from all quarters of the floor. The Garland range is also prominently presented. The firm are large dealers also in tinware, fine porcelain and china goods, lamps, crystalware, and various household articles, and are certainly a handsome piece of workmanship.
